Districts Should Mend Their Promise-Keeping Ways

Five years ago when voters of the Grossmont Hospital District approved an expansion program, spokesman for the hospital administration promised that the next program of expansion would be that of building a hospital satellite in the area between Lemon Grove and Spring Valley.

During the intervening years nothing has been done to bulwark that promise. Instead, construction on Grossmont's new 13½ million dollar wing is being started this month. When that is finished, a 4½ million dollar psychiatric center will be built nearby, according to R. E. Dahlgren, Grossmont Hospital administrator.

There are no plans for a Lemon Grove-Spring Valley facility. It is doubtful that such a facility will ever be built by those who run the district. Whether that is good or bad is moot. It is mentioned here only to remind those who succumbed to that argument for supporting the bond issue five years ago that the promise has not yet been kept.

Before we put the subject of broken promises behind, let it be suggested that it would be in the public's interest to set up a Consumers Bureau for taxpayers of any district—one patterned after the one watching over auto repair, appliance repair firms, and door-to-door and telephone salespeople. A taxpayers' advocate, so to speak. Its sole purpose would be to get the money back for the public when those who solicit their vote do not keep their promises.

Those who made the promises for Grossmont are no longer serving the district. The election committee dissolved when the issue passed. No one left is willing to accept responsibility for those commitments even though no financial obligation can now be attached to it. Still, the promise was made and not kept.

Regardless, there are arguments for containing the hospital at one location and those persuasions should be noted.

Doctors, generally, prefer a one-location development. It saves an additional stop on their hospital rounds.

One location would make it possible to house complex, expensive and exotic equipment where most of the patients are. This beats moving patients who need such treatment from time to time.

Yet, something should be said about that, too. Some doctors would find a satellite facility closer to their base of operations. Patients living in Lemon Grove or Spring Valley would be closer to family and friends. And patients requiring equipment housed only at the headquarters building could be registered in there at the beginning. It may be that this total would be small.

The Grossmont District expansion program will proceed on schedule—as it should. But when another election comes, it is almost a certainty that a responsible citizens group will concern itself with promises, past and present.

All hospital writings are not grim. A lighter side to hospitalization was reported recently in a United Press survey. It has nothing to do with the upcoming Grossmont development. It has more to do with a reporter's macabre sense of humor.

The writer says that you would think you would get the best of service in a place that charges 25 cents for one aspirin tablet and $200 a day for a bed. But anyone who has been in one in the past several years knows that is not always true.

Did you ever get a nurse in a hurry when you needed one? Swell chance!

Did you ever compare the difference in time it takes for hospital attendants to do something you asked them to do and the time it takes when they want you to do something? If you want a pill to ease your throbbing pain, you might have to wait for hours. But, if your chart calls for you to have a sleeping pill, they'll wake you up out of a deep sleep to give it to you.

All over the country new hospitals are being built. Old ones are being torn down to make way for new structures in which the new technology and procedures can be carried on in a more efficient manner. We're all for such progress when it really helps to speed up the process of curing the patients. But we are suspicious that in some instances this "progress" is designed to make it easier on the hospital help than on patients.

It has been a long, long time since anyone has presumed to go to a hospital for a rest. Today's practice is to get the patient up on his feet as soon as possible. Such, we are told, is "good for the patient" and makes it possible for the hospital to take care of more sick persons.

We don't think anyone wants to stay in a hospital any longer than they have to, but we would suggest that while the patient is there, he should be treated with some human compassion.

According to the UPI story, the noisiest areas are recovery rooms and intensive care rooms where patients need quiet.

Nowadays there is hardly a place in a hospital that is quiet, especially in teaching hospitals. More noise comes from visitors and hospital staffers talking loudly as they thump up and down the halls. The UPI account states that in a recent issue of the NEW ENGLAND JOURNAL OF MEDICINE it was pointed out that a bedpan washer in the recovery room was one of the noisiest of all mechanical operations.

Written to be humorous? Sure. But it also points up the need for hospitals and doctors to concern themselves with the convenience and travel time of patients, too.

LG Carburetor Fire Causes $100 Damage

The Lemon Grove Fire Department, for the week of March 25-April 1, answered two fire calls and three first aid calls.

On March 26th, firemen responded to a call to Olive and Pacific. A car leaking fuel from the carburetor had ignited, causing about a $100 fire. The car belonged to Joe Tachiquin of San Diego.

The first aid crew went to 8425 Golden ave., when a 62-year old man had a possible heart attack. He was given oxygen and sent to a hospital.

March 30, the crew was summoned to the Lemon Grove Convalescent Hospital. A 4-year old boy was ill, given oxygen and sent to a hospital.

Burglars Steal Cash, Radiator Parts From 2 Lemon Grove Firms

Two Lemon Grove businesses became burglary victims during the past week. Merchandise valued at almost $350 was taken from a radiator service and $190 in cash was taken from a service station.

$150 worth of radiator cores and a $200 truck radiator were reportedly stolen from a Lemon Grove firm, March 25. Police said that an unknown burglar broke into AAH Radiator Service at 7620 North after the business had closed and stole the 36 radiator cores as well as a heavy duty truck radiator.

Larry's Chevrolet located at 7209 Broadway in LG reported to police that $190 was stolen from the station some time during the evening of March 26 or in the early morning of the 27th.

Police stated that the burglary could possibly have had knowledge of the station operation because nothing was rifled and the money was taken from three locations. Cash trays were emptied, a penny jar was taken and the safe was opened.

Police are still investigating the two burglaries.

Two Storms Dampen Area

A small storm measured .02 of an inch on rain gauges Sunday in the Lemon Grove-Spring Valley areas.

Then another, larger, came Monday night and provided .25. That brought the season's total to 8.42.

Last year on the same date the total for the season was 16 inches.

The season ends on July 1.

Mayor Urges Passage Of Proposition 5

San Diego Mayor Pete Wilson has endorsed Prop. 5 on the June 4 primary ballot.

The proposition would amend the California Constitution to allow up to 25 percent of the motor vehicle tax to be diverted for public mass transit.

"If we seriously intend to achieve modern transit and all the benefit it brings, it is absolutely essential to pass the proposition," Mayor Wilson said.

L.G. Chamber Installs New Directors Sat.

Members of the board of directors of the Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce will be installed following a dinner Saturday night at the VFW Hall at 2885 Imperial ave.

From their number, later, they will select a president and other officers who will run the organization in 1974-1975. Dinner is at 7:30 p.m. following a cocktail hour.

The installation ceremony will be short, said current president Dell Lake. It will be the only serious business of the evening.

Entertainment highlight will be an informal talk by the Chargers linebacker Pete Lazetich who is again on the team's roster for 1974-1975.

Lazetich lives in the north county and during off season works in construction. He's saving his money for a ranch in Montana where he lived before attending Stanford. The summer job brings that realization earlier, he says.

Senior Meals to Become A Reality

A senior citizens program, of legislation introduced by Assemblyman Peter Chacon which enables the school district to participate in the project.

It's the "hot meals" project in which elderly people will be able to have at least one hot meal each day.

Meals will be prepared in the L. G. Junior High School cafeteria and served in the L. G. Community (Youth) Center at 3146 School lane.

A donation of 50 cents has been recommended but there will be no charge to those unable to pay. Serving starts on Monday, April 15.

Funding will come from the federal government through the San Diego County Office of Senior Citizens Affairs.

The program was developed, after 18 months of effort, by a citizens group made up of representatives of local organizations which includes the L.G.-S.V. Soroptimists; L.G. Kiwanis; Lemon Grove School District; Spring Valley Community Welfare; United Church of Christ, L.G.; United Methodist Church, L.G.; L.G. Senior Citizens Club; SDSU Graduate School of Social Work, and other interested individuals.

The noon time hot meal to be served Monday through Friday each week will be nutritious as well as tasty and it will be served in a congenial setting.

Other Services
Also provided will be needed social and health services such as information and referral, health screening, nutrition education and shopping assistance.

Another purpose of the project is to reach the isolated, lonely, older person, menu consists of salads, preferably bringing him out baked ham, vegetable, baked beans, dessert and beverage. The affair is open to the public. Reservations may be made at the Chamber of Commerce office by phoning 469-9621.

The action which made the project possible was passage

ple. So many of us don't have anything to do. Edna McClure, a widow, "I won't be participating but it's a wonderful thing for seniors. So many need companionship and the company of other people to keep their interest up."

Julia Duiey, a senior citizen, said "It's a wonderful idea. As you get older you start making sandwiches and instant pudding. You forget about nutrition."

Violet Langmaid, nearly 90, said "It's a good idea. I don't get around any more. I don't even fix many meals for myself any more."

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Lloyd like the idea. "A lot of people don't get a hot meal and for 50 cents you can't beat it. We're small eaters but we like to get out once in a while. We don't have transportation."

Mrs. A. C. Freeman, 74, will not be a luncheon guest. "I have a heart condition and I'm too ill to go anywhere. My grandchildren give me whatever help I need."

Maude Wigfield, a widow, said "It's good in many ways. A nice way to get together at 466-1034 or Mrs. Richard Thompson at 460-5316."

Those interested in participating in the program should contact Mrs. Ray Heiserman at 466-1034 or Mrs. Richard Thompson at 460-5316.

Hal Johnston

One-man Police Force

Long Illness Claims Deputy 'Hal' Johnston

Peace officer Harold (Hal) Johnston's patrol included Johnston, 72, who earned the Spring Valley, Casa de Oro, in distinctive official title of addition to Lemon Grove. Sheriff's Deputy died at the Johnston had been made a country deputy when local hospital in Lemon Grove last week.

He had been ill since his retirement in August, 1971. There were no funeral services, as he requested, but he left a legacy of service to the community of Lemon Grove that few can equal.

He was the "Lemon Grove Police Department" for many of the 18 years he served here. He was first hired by local business firms, through the Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce, to patrol the business section at night, "rattling doors" to make certain owners had locked up. It was not uncommon for a proprietor, opening his shop for business the next day, to find a note from Johnston a couple of times a year which read: "Door left unlocked. No apparent burglary. H. Johnston 2:30 a.m."

Early Days
That was in the earlier days when east county had not reached the full-development stage. Crime was just beginning to grow with the population. There were only three sheriff's patrol cars in the county—one each for the north, south and east sections.

Sarge was the forerunner of today's sheriff's man-dog team. He protected both of the Johnstons with equal ferocity. Sarge's health failed along with Johnston's and he was put to sleep a little more than a year ago.

Completed the apprehension.

Passover Begins Sat.

This year the Jewish festival of Passover will begin Saturday evening at sundown. The holiday will last until April 14. Passover commemorates the liberation of the Jews from Egyptian slavery, as described in the book of Exodus.

Not long ago I told you of two men discussing the question of Passover services. The holiday will last until April 14. Passover commemorates the liberation of the Jews from Egyptian slavery, as described in the book of Exodus.

Although Passover services are generally celebrated in the home, several synagogues and college-elect sons—As you may recall one was a probable "Fund-Raiser." Ann Spencer, wife of the owner of The Fireplace, was displaying for her husband an expensive fur coat she just bought.

"One can't help but feel sorry for the poor thing that was skinned for this."

Said he: "I appreciate your sympathy."

PERI-SCOPE The decor at Bob and Geri Pal's Restaurant boasts old advertisements like the one displaying "Mephisto Cigars" dated 1897—only it has a zip code.

Spring Valley's Mrs. Jean Craft who works at the Coronet in Lemon Grove claims her mother knows whereof she speaks. When asked why she hadn't flown to California to visit her expectant daughter, the Mid-Western mother replied, "I'm waiting until the baby arrives — grandmothers are always more welcome than mothers-in-law!"

During an Adult Instruction Class at Christ Lutheran Church Mrs. Joan Turner related that her four-year old son, Eddie, announced: "Mommy, I'm talking to God, but He doesn't answer back... I'm gonna have to get Him a walkie-talkie."

Earl and Dorothy Dobler manage the Borrego Village Resort, and wonder if Women's Lib or "Chivalry" is dead? Stalled near their spa a woman looked helplessly at a flat tire. A passerby stopped to help. After the tire was changed the woman said: "Please let the jack down easily. My husband is sleeping in the back seat."

PERI-ANNOYA Dwight Bayles of Lemon Grove Healthful Foods thinks he knows how inflation is born. He heard a butcher training a new clerk and it went something like this: "If somebody comes in and hasn't invented anything that asks the price of two pork goes faster than a vacation."

NAB Helps Vets Find More Jobs

The San Diego office of the National Alliance of Businessmen has passed its 1974 goal for job placements of both Vietnam-era veterans and disadvantaged people, according to Robert E. Morris, chairman.

NAB's Job Opportunities in the Business Sector (JOBS) program has found jobs for 3,017 veterans, more than twice their goal for this year, Morris said. Included in that number are jobs for 152 disabled veterans.

"However, we will be intensifying our efforts to find jobs for veterans in observance of Vietnam Veterans Day," Morris said.

President Nixon has proclaimed Friday, the first anniversary of the release of the prisoners of war, as Vietnam Veterans Day. "Mayor Pete Wilson also has proclaimed this week Vietnam Veterans Week in San Diego," Morris said.

NAB is a nationwide alliance of business executives who seek jobs for the economically disadvantaged, Vietnam-era veterans and youth. Morris is senior vice president of San Diego Gas & Electric Co.

"We also have exceeded our goal for placement of disadvantaged persons in San Diego," Morris said. The JOBS program has placed 2,652 disadvantaged persons, 132.6 per cent of their goal of 2,000 job placements.

The Easter Sunday schedule calls for hourly presentations from noon to 5 p.m. and at 7:30 and 8:30 p.m. A Spanish-language translation of "Standing Up Country" and "Capture the Sun" will be given at 11 a.m. Sunday.

"Mars... The Search Begins," a filmed look at U.S. unmanned space probe programs exploring life conditions on the red planet will be shown five times each day in the 100-seat lobby lecture hall.

In addition to the science center laser "side show," visitors will be invited to view their own heartbeat, send coded messages, make ocean waves and create symmetrical "sand paintings" in the exhibit hall.

The Reuben H. Fleet Space Theater and Science Center, governed by the San Diego Hall of Science, is located south of the San Diego Zoo. Free parking is provided adjacent to the facility.

The daily 60 minute sessions will be for beginners only and will be taught by certified swimming instructors. The course emphasis will be on water safety, floating, the crawl and sidestrokes.

"You won't be a Mark Spitz or a Shane Gould after the five sessions, but you'll be able to save your own life if you accidentally fall in the water," Fish said.

UCSD Extension Offers Consciousness Expert

Dr. Robert Ornstein, an author and research psychologist who believes there are two separate ways of thinking, each related to a different side of the brain, will spend an evening discussing recent theories and research in his field April 12 in La Jolla.

"The Psychology of Consciousness" is the title of a Friday evening lecture Ornstein will give from 7:30 to 10 p.m. at Sherwood Hall, La Jolla Museum of Contemporary Art. There will be an admission fee of $5 for the general public and $3 for students.

Dr. Robert B. Livingston, professor of neurosciences at UCSD School of Medicine, will introduce Ornstein and act as moderator for the UCSD Extension-sponsored event.

Ornstein, a research psychologist at Langley Porter Neuropsychiatric Institute in San Francisco, is the author of several books including the recently published Psychology of Consciousness and The Nature of Human Consciousness.

With other brain researchers at Langley Porter, Ornstein has conducted experiments measuring "alpha" brain waves that support his belief there are two distinct modes of consciousness — logic and reason governed by the left hemisphere of the brain, and intuition and creativity governed by the right.

Ornstein views western thought as left hemisphere dominated and eastern thought as primarily influenced by the right hemisphere. He hopes we can learn to use both modes in order to more fully realize our full human potential.

Tickets are available at the Extension registration office on Matthews Campus, UCSD, the Turntable in La Jolla, or many be purchased at Sherwood Hall the night of the event. For registration information the public may call 453-2000, extension 2061.

Q. How much is the personal exemption for 1973 Federal income tax returns?

A. For the tax year 1973, the personal exemption remains at $750.

Q. What is the purpose of the Presidential Election Campaign Fund?

A. Congress established the fund as a means to develop public participation in the financing of Presidential Election Campaigns. Based on a formula built into the law, the funds will be divided between the eligible political parties for campaign purposes.

If you wish to participate in this program designate that $1 of your tax ($2 if married, filing jointly) be allocated to the fund by checking the space on line 8 of your 1973 return. If you neglected to check off for 1972, you may still do so on your 1973 return in the space above the signature line.

Q. I drive a 4-cylinder car. Am I entitled to the full gas tax deduction permitted by the tables in your Form 1040 package?

A. No. If your car had four cylinders or less, deduct half the table amount.

Q. I purchased a copy of your tax booklet, "Your Federal Income Tax," last year to use in preparing my tax return. Can I deduct the cost of this book on my 1973 return?

A. Yes. Tax assistance expenses are deductible. If you want to purchase a copy of the 1974 edition of "Your Federal Income Tax," Publication 17, the 192-page booklet is available over-the-counter for $1 at IRS offices and many post offices. It is also available for $1.25, postpaid, from the Superintendent of Documents, Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402, or from the Public Documents Distribution Center, Pueblo Industrial Park, Pueblo, Colo. 81009.

Q. My son fixes radios and TVs at home during the summer to earn part of his college tuition. Last year, he had net earnings of about $900. Does he have to file a Federal income tax return? Can I still claim him as a dependent?

You may still claim him as a dependent, regardless of how much income he had, if he was

Chamber of Commerce Briefed On Grossmont Financial Troubles

Four persons, representing the Grossmont High School District, addressed the monthly meeting of the Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce Board about the District's financial crisis.

The Thursday meeting was held in Chamber headquarters on Imperial Ave., at noon. The Grossmont group included: Dick Feesler from the Grossmont Education Office, Dick Whitcomb from the Grossmont school board and Dr. Robert Pyle the principal of Mt. Miguel.

Dick Feesler described the activities of the group to obtain passage of a state bill which would relieve the District's financial problems.

It was reported at the meeting that the Rotary Club of Lemon Grove has donated $100 to support the teenage dance program at the VFW Hall. Joe Nelson said that there were more teenagers at the latest dance than at any of the previous affairs.

Carter Industries Inc., a Santa Ana outdoor advertising firm, was selected by the California Highway Commission in Napa to build the installations, part of a motorist information program at 36 of the California Department of Transportation (CALTRANS) rest stops.

The first of the facilities will be completed at the Randolph Collier roadside rest near Yreka, by September 1, 1974. The other 35 will be installed at various locations throughout California on Interstate Routes 5, 10, 15, and 80 between then and May 1, 1976.

The cylindrical kiosks will all be alike. About 9 feet across, each will contain enough space for 160 subscribers whose messages will be presented through simultaneous recorded messages and slide projections selected by the random access, audio visual system. As the messages are displayed, the location of the businesses will be pinpointed on a locator map at the motorist's elbow. Later, if he wishes to, the motorist may make a toll-free call for reservations at the business establishment he chooses.

There will be no expense to the state. In fact, with all of the kiosks operating, the program is expected to return at least $1.7 million to the state in the next 20 years. Each subscriber space will cost $35 per month.

CALTRANS officials emphasized that there were no plans to install other commercial facilities at the roadside rests.

Tommy Nettles Signs For ITGA Competition

San Diegan Tommy Nettles was one of the first golfers to sign up for the International Tournament Golf Association 10 tourney series getting underway today at Carlton Oaks Country Club. But then Tommy has always been a home town kind of guy.

"We are very glad to have him," beamed Tournament Director Bruce Osborne.

"Tommy would put life in any field," agreed co-director Bob Clark.

Indeed he would. Tom Nettles is a man who speaks his piece and isn't afraid of the truth.

He mixed golf and football with a little track and he made his way through Hoover High, San Diego City College and then on to San Diego State. He made a mark in all three. He threw the varsity javelin at State, and swung a mean golf club.

Footballer, Too

He played football on Don Coryell's college championship team and in 1968 led Aztec receivers with 62 receptions that covered 1,227 yards and accounted for 14 touchdowns.

He was a 7th round draft choice with the Kansas City Chiefs, was taxied for a year, then moved on to Canadian football. A year later he turned to professional golf and has been making his way with his clubs ever since.

"This is a great format," said Tommy of the Osborne-Clark tournament series. "It's just the kind of series young golfers need. A low entry fee and 90 percent of the money returned in prize money. Now if I can just get my game together, I'll be all right."

The ITGA series of 10, two day, 36-hole tourney starts Thursday and will continue each Monday and Thursday for the next five weeks.

Food prices jumped 20 percent in England last year.

TICKET TIME — Animal Regulation Supervisor George Drummond, will be issuing tickets after Saturday to dog owners who fail to obtain a dog license. The ticket requires posting of $25 bail and a mandatory court appearance. The new animal regulation laws take effect April 6 in six county cities and in the county's unincorporated areas.

Free Roaming Dogs Stopped, Protected by New Ordinance

The day of the free-roaming dog is coming to an end in most of San Diego County.

On Saturday strict enforcement of a new set of animal control regulations will begin in the county's unincorporated areas and six cities.

The laws are strict and are designed to protect dogs as well as people. The new ordinances have been structured to place responsibility for a dog's behavior on its owner. The penalties for violation of the new ordinances will hit dog owners in the pocketbook.

Enforcement of the new regulations will begin in the cities of San Diego, Del Mar, Imperial Beach, Carlsbad, San Marcos and Vista. The new laws will also apply to the unincorporated areas of the county including Lakeside, Santee, Poway, Julian, Bonita Springs and Fallbrook.

One of the new regulations is designed to keep dogs off the streets and out of neighbors' yards.

Under the new law, a dog must be restrained at all times. The animal must either be kept on a leash, or within an enclosed area on the owner's property.

According to David Boyd, district animal regulation superintendent, there were 4,045 reported dog bites last year within the City of San Diego. In the north county some 1,100 bites were reported and south county reported 1,555 bites last year. Boyd stresses these figures represent about half of the actual bites which occur each year.

When a free-roaming dog is the culprit, the task of locating and quarantining the animal becomes difficult for the animal regulation officers.

"We spend about 15 percent of our time quarantining animals and releasing them," Boyd says.

Van Deerlin Lauded For Cracking Photo Ban

A leading trade publication for the broadcasting industry says Rep. Lionel Van Deerlin (D-San Diego) should be honored with a plaque "on the first camera installed in the (House) chamber" for his efforts to open congressional TV and still cameras on the proceedings to news coverage.

In its March issue, Broadcasting Magazine also recommended that Sen. Robert C. Byrd, (D-W. Va.) Senate majority whip, be similarly honored.

"The Byrds and Van Deerlin may be too progressive to be instantly heeded in halls where clerks still keep inkwells filled and snuff boxes at the ready," Broadcasting said.

"But if broadcast gear is ever given permanent admission to the Capitol, those names deserve a plaque on the first camera installed in the chamber."

The publication said it hoped something would come of studies by a House-Senate committee on improving relations between Congress and the news media.

Van Deerlin testified before the Joint Congressional Operations Committee last month.

Kiwanis Present Pillars of Freedom

"Give of Yourself" is the theme of the 1974 Pillars of American Freedom program of the Kiwanis Club of San Diego, Rear Admiral Leslie E. Gehres, ret., general chairman of this year's event, announced recently. Four luncheon lectures will be given starting at noon, April 23 and Chula Vista. "It helps to collect the sewer charge this way because it's more economical. It also eliminates some collecting problems because the customer's water can be cut off if the sewer charge isn't paid."

Some of the previous Pillars of American Freedom program speakers included President Richard M. Nixon,

Doctors Here Retain Membership in AAFP

KANSAS CITY, MO. — Michael Andrisani, M.D., and Edwin Charles Grubbs, M.D. The requirements call for members to complete a minimum of 150 hours of accredited continuing medical study every three years. Members become eligible for reelection at the end of the third year following their election to membership. The Academy, the country's second largest national medical association, is the only national medical group that requires members to keep up with medical progress through continuing education.

The Academy, founded in 1947 and headquartered in Kansas City, Mo., was instrumental in the establishment of a new primary medical specialty in family practice in 1969. The new specialty is expected to increase the numbers of family physicians available to serve the public in the future. The Academy's continuing education program is the foundation of eligibility for family doctors now in practice who apply for certification in the new specialty.

If you're not in charge of hiring and firing in your company, give this ad to someone who is.

Look around your company and notice who your fellow-workers are.

Chances are, not one of them is handicapped. And this is unfortunate, because handicapped people have very specific skills and capabilities.

Right now, thousands of them are out of work. And the Department of Vocational Rehabilitation in your state is determined to do something about it.

Once the Department evaluates a person's disabilities and helps him develop new skills, its most difficult task is still ahead: To find him a job.

And this is where you come in.

If you are not in a position to hire these people, talk to someone who is. Tell him that rehabilitated people — people who have made it the hard way — have greater determination and drive than most people.

Tell him that they will stay on the job and help your company grow.

Tell him that we follow up and re-evaluate all employees we place with your company.

And tell him to write to your state's Director of Vocational Rehabilitation at this office in your state capital.

'Show Biz' Takes Over Where News Coverage Once Held Sway

By John Wirges

Just in case you missed it, one of our old and honored institutions was killed last week. It fell under an avalanche of avantgarde mod news program directing and pop art telecasting.

The principal was that "Old Barn Burner" himself, Al Couppee. And while he got the knife in the back, we are all victims.

Our world will be a lot less colorful, our sports coverage and our avenue for honest reporting much more narrow with the silencing of this man. It's almost like the loss of a basic freedom. And that makes us all losers.

Coup was squeezed out in a deadly format fight over at KGTU, Channel 10. He lost to news director Ron Mires who seems bent on making the news more entertaining with lots of kidding around and by-play between his telecasters so viewers get to know what a fun place a television station really is. It's just fun. Fun. Fun.

The old line, straight forward, hard hitting, call-a-spade-a-spade, reporter is no longer "in."

News is now a comic opera. Gone are the solid believable anchor men like Sam Rinaker and Ray Wilson. And now mod news has dribbled over into sports and Al Couppee is gone.

We can't afford to lose such men. They stood for honesty and integrity, qualities of little regard these days, it would seem.

In their place we have a band of look alike mods, full of wise cracks and quick with the quip copy readers who think of themselves as actors playing a newsmen's role.

They wear paste-up smiles showing yards of teeth flashing in plastic grins as they report on how the sixth grade girls of Chipmunk elementary school all burned their practice bras.

It's all very indepth stuff, folks, but unfortunately there isn't time tonight for any hard news. O.K. That's alright. Let's hear it for the girls from Chipmunk.

Often Irksome

What does pass for hard news under the new "art form" is mostly irreverent, largely irrelevant and often irksome. It's pure show-biz, folks. Just the mod way of saying we shouldn't take life too seriously. And now a feature on a bilingual parrot who took the vow of silence.

Coupee, who has been "Mr. Sports" on San Diego's broadcast scene ever since he came here from Iowa 13 years ago, gave it a good fight. The rug, 'tis said, was pulled out from beneath him from up above.

For his efforts Coup was ordered to resign from all the groups and commissions he has so ably assisted and gave so unselfishly of his time.

It seems strange to this passer by that a TV station would order its sports director to quit such sports related groups as the Breitbard Athletic Foundation, the Hall of Champions and the California State Athletic Commission. But that's what Coup was forced to do.

It would seem the new command at KGTU, Channel 10, doesn't believe in having its staff members become part of the community. And that is a mighty strange way for folks to act when they deem it their right to beam their hog-wash into our living rooms.

Somehow you wonder how a guy like Clayton Brace, KGTU's general manager, can face himself over his shaving mirror after allowing one of his most loyal and oldest employees to be cut down by the new kid in the name of pop art news programming.

Enough of the sour grapes. We can all vote for mod news reports by watching or not as we see fit.

'Helluva Reporter'

I don't know what Coup has in mind but before he leaves our town, let me remind you that he is one helluva man. He's one of the most honest men in the world, plays news right down the middle and saves his personal thoughts for his commentaries. He always gave everybody an honest effort and crammed more "news" into his five minutes than most of these modern day actor-casters can get into their half hour.

Even more importantly Coup was, and is, one of the greatest teachers of the trade. He had to teach himself, coming into broadcasting right along with the birth of television. And he shared that hard won knowledge with a string of assistants.

Padre broadcaster Bob Chandler is a Couppee graduate. So is radio's tree-shaker Rod Page. KCTV-39 TV's program director Bill Fouch got a leg up from Coup. And of course the current sports staff at KGTU, Hal Clement and Jim Hill, learned their trade from Big Al.

For what it's worth, even this portable pounder got his start and most of his training at the Couppee School of sports reporting. For which I am everlastingly grateful.

I don't know what the future holds for Coup, but I want him to know we all wish him well. We wish for all the best and great success in every venture.

Back in the days of my raw beginning, when dreams seemed totally unmatched by talent or ability, he took the time to show me the way. And let me tell you, I learned from a giant.

Cajon Speedway Opens April 20

SPARKLING NEW — New surface is applied to the Cajon banked speedway as opening night, April 20, nears. Open house and a hot lapping session is open free to the public April 13, 1-4 p.m. at the Gillespie Field Stadium.

A major portion of a $20,000 face-lifting job has been completed as Cajon Speedway spruces up for its 14th season of auto racing April 20. Asphalt has been poured and steamrollered over 80,000 square feet of the 3/8 mile race track and additional crete crash wall, placed at pavement was added to the critical areas of the swift over-entrance to the stadium, and al. These barriers, enforced by steel will tilt toward the track at the top as an improved safety quotient and will save damage to the race cars.

"The idea is for the wall to take the force of the impact further down, aiming the car into a safer angle to produce less of a jam-up on the track," Brucker said.

"The curl near the top will keep a wheel from climbing."

The El Cajon Stock Car Racing Association, meanwhile, announced that it will conduct 24 races this season, curtailing about five events for energy-saving. Hot-lapping will be reduced each Saturday night as another method of conserving.

The programs, starting with qualifications at 6:30 p.m., will include a trophy dash, four heats, consolation, semi-main and a 30-lap main event.

Jim Bridges, president of the ECSRA, said four Destruction derbies, mechanics races, eight Powder Puff Derbies and kiddie rides will be added features this year.

Padres List Group Plan

The gas shortage convinced many that there's a lot of fun to be had at home.

For that reason, and because San Diego has the best team in its history, more people are planning to join the Padres' party club.

It's a little different, sure. But getting up a group to spend an evening with the Padres and see National League baseball at its finest is an unsurpassed way of spending an evening with family or friends.

Under the direction of Tom Mulcahy, the Padres Group Sales Department is offering some fine packages this season for groups wishing to take in a Padre ball game.

Foremost on the list of group plans offered by the Padres this year are the Triple Play Club and the Batter's Box Club which are available to groups of 40 or more members.

Seating is on the Press Level with one of two catering plans available: Package 1 — $8.50 per person. Draught beer, cold cuts, etc. and a press level ticket. Package 2 — $10 per person. Draught beer, hard liquor, ice, mixes, bartender on duty, cold cuts, etc. and a press level ticket.

Group seating is also available on the plaza and loge levels with the following group rates in effect:

Currently in third place, the Gulls are three points away from second and four away from the top spot in the WHL. Still within reach of first or second, the Gulls return to action Friday at the Sports Arena against the Denver Spurs. Faceoff for the game is 8 p.m. and tickets are available all week at the Arena box office nad all Arena ticket outlets.

Saturday the Gulls head out on the road to take on the Portland Buckaroos in a crucial game and the season finale will be Sunday in Seattle against the Totems.

Last weekend the Gulls took two of three games played, beating Denver and Salt Lake and losing to Portland. Friday night in Denver goalie John Adams recorded his first shutout of the season with a 4-0 victory over the Spurs. He made a season high of 50 saves to nail down the shut-out.

After losing to Portland 6-0 on Saturday the Gulls returned to San Diego and took a 4-1 decision over the Salt Lake Golden Eagles. The victory over the Golden Eagles was the 27th on home ice this season, a new club record.

A crowd of 12,291 attended the game to raise the Gulls season attendance to 313,971 for 38 home dates. Including the January 3 game with the Russians, the Gulls have played before crowds of 10,000 or more a total of twelve times this season.

take the gamble out of making money.

There's lots of ways to make money. Go to Las Vegas. Play the stock market. Invest in a racehorse. You might make money. You might even make a lot of it. But, you're taking a risk. Can you afford to lose? Of course you want to make money. Who doesn't? But you don't have to gamble. In fact, we're going to give you a tip on a sure thing.

La Jolla Federal Savings and Loan. No doubt about it being a winner.

There's no way you can lose. Put your money in a savings account that pays the highest interest allowed by law and you've got it made. As long as your money is in the account, it will automatically be making more money. (And there are lots of savings plans and accounts other than regular passbook accounts. The more you save and the longer you save, the higher your interest will be.) How's that for a sure thing?

It may not sound as exciting as Las Vegas, the stock market or the race track, but there's no gamble. And when you're talking about your hard-earned money, gambling just doesn't seem to make much sense.

of Bobby Chacon, is said to be even better than the more highly publicized fighter. Both Barazza and Barrigan are popular in San Diego.

Davies has set Friday night as Kid's Night. All youngsters, 15 years or under, will be admitted without charge when accompanied by a paid adult in the ringside or reserved sections.

Last week's fights, 21-year old Renato Garcia, who claims two sound-alike cities as home — San Diego, California and Santiago, Chile — did what local fight fans expected him to do. He was winner over former middleweight champion Dennis Moyer in a 10-round split decision. One judge voted 5-2 Moyer; the other 5-4 Garcia. The referee, Fred Hayes, who saw Garcia 8-2. There was disagreement in press row, too. No two newsmen had the same score.

Out of such disagreements rematches are made. So the two fighters will meet here again on a date to be announced.

It brought Garcia's record to 24-0; 14 by knockouts. It gave the veteran Moyer a record of 108-30-5. Moyer's handlers complained about the judging, calling it a "home town" decision.

The fight was furious. Garcia was the stalker, changing tactics from round to round. His most effective attack was a left jab. Moyer showed the style that made him world middleweight junior champion and it also showed that the toll of years (he's 34) will slow down any battler. Moyer hit Garcia more often but Garcia hit Moyer harder, bringing blood from his nose and a split from his right cheek.

In another 10-round, middleweight Mike Avans easily outpointed Eddie Mazan with both fighters taking a good beating.

Two heavyweights who are becoming regular opponents at the Coliseum, Sam Wilson, a bricklayer and Mel Marshall of Oceanside, punched each other evenly enough through four rounds to be awarded a draw. Sam was winner in two previous engagements.

Pennant Winner Bob Kerrigan On Old Time Days Parade Team

PENNANT WINNER — Former Padres pennant winning pitcher Bob Kerrigan will ride in Old Time Days Parade.

Twenty years ago the Padres won the Pacific Coast League pennant. Bob Kerrigan pitched for the Padres Mike Garcia and Early Wynn. and went all the way. The score was 7-2.

This week Kerrigan became the latest "old time" athlete to join Parade Marshal Al Couppee's Old Time Days Parade court.

Last week Couppee signed up Al Schuss who was the voice of the Padres for 25 years — until the team left the Pacific Coast League.

Coupee, Schuss and Kerrigan will ride in vintage autos along the parade down Broadway in Lemon Grove Saturday April 26 starting at 11 a.m.

Kerrigan, now operations manager of San Diego's Convention and Performing Arts Center, lives in Spring Valley. But from 1946 through 1954 he pitched for the Padres at Lane Field except for a couple of years when he was signed by the Cleveland Indians.

Pennant Winner

Local fans will remember him best for his outstanding performance in 1954 when the Padres won the PCL pennant. When the regular season ended the Padres were tied with the Hollywood Stars for the pennant. It was to be settled in a one-game playoff. A toss of a coin brought the game to San Diego.

It drew a standing room only crowd. Stands were roped off section in the outfield. It was the first baseball game televised in San Diego. Padres manager Lefty O'Doul had pitched Kerrigan in three complete games in six days and started him in the "sudden death" game. He was tired but the Padres won it 7-2 with Kerrigan going all the way. Bob Elliott hit two homers. The two runs scored against Kerrigan were fly balls that dropped into the roped off crowd. Ordinarily, they would have been caught by the outfielders.

Rides In Parade

The parade in which the trio of baseball greats will ride is but one of the events of Old Time Days. The event starts on Wednesday April 24 with a five-day carnival on the grounds of St. John of the Cross Catholic church at Washington and Broadway. That's also the general area where the parade disbands.

OTD ends on Sunday. During the five day period local merchants will conduct sales.

An hour prior to the parade a costume contest for school age youngsters will be held on the parking lot of the Goodrich store at 7285 Broadway.

In the parade, lending beauty to the marshal's party will be Sharon Meyer who is Miss Spring Valley, and Suzanne Pickard, Miss Lemon Grove. There will be floats, bands, marching units and individuals. Cut-off date for entering the parade is Friday.

Barbecue Dinner

Following the parade a barbecue dinner will be held at St. Philip's church which is at the corner of Palm and Hardy. A pep band will provide entertainment. Tickets are $2.50, $1.75 for youngsters.

Tickets for carnival events may be purchased in advance at considerable savings from the Mt. Miguel Boosters Club, Pick Up Ltd. Club, market centers and at the chamber office for $1 for five.

Bumper stickers are also available at the chamber office at 3415 Imperial ave.

Taking It With You

Chinese funerals are still colorful. Hong Kong shops sell paper artifacts of houses, cars and other items, which are burned at the ceremonies to be used, according to beliefs by the deceased in after life.

Pork Chop Suey

More hogs are grown in China than anywhere else in the world.

MINI HIGH RISE — Lemon Grove will soon have a new mini high rise on the site of the former Slim's Broadway X Tavern. The building will occupy 16,513 sq. ft., and house 26 offices and 2 shops. It will be air conditioned and have an elevator. The building will be called the Lemon Grove Executive Office Building. It is being built by Meyers, Frank and Okean San Diego County Devel-

World's Top Golfers Booked for La Costa

CARLSBAD — Golf fans at practice rounds Tuesday and Wednesday, $4.50 for the first Champions get a bonus this two rounds Thursday and Friday — free parking, and a day and $6.50 for the final $10 savings in season ticket two rounds Saturday and Sunday. Free parking is included in daily ticket purchases.

Season Clubhouse badges are $15, said Jacobs. Clubhouse badges are $3 daily for Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday and $5 daily Saturday and Sunday.

The world's best golfers will be coming for the $40,000 first prize, including four-time winner Jack Nicklaus, Johnny Miller, winner of four tournaments this year; Tom Weiskopf, Gary Player, Dave Stockton, Hubert Green, Bobby Nichols, Dave Hill, Bruce Crampton, exciting rookies Ben Crenshaw and John Mahaffey, and the San Diego area threesome of Gene Littler, Billy Casper and John Schroeder.

Ticket information may be obtained by telephoning Millie Holman at (714) 729-9111, extensions 218 and 219.

Jacobs also said a few spots remain for the Champions 100 Program, limited to the first 100 applicants.

For a $350 donation, participants receive two famous Tournament of Champions blazers (his and hers), two personalized clubhouse badges, participation in a special golf day, April 12, and the cocktail awards party afterwards, four season tickets, preferred seating around the 18th green, valet parking, two invitations to the ToC Cocktail Party and other favors.

Since no memorial services are planned, men of the Sheriff's Lemon Grove office will subscribe to a fund to buy Deputy Johnston's service revolver from his estate.

"We plan to mount it on a plaque and display it prominently in the Lemon Grove office," said Detective Tommy Nelson who heads the project.

Johnston's sole survivor is his wife, Fay. She said that any commemoration of her husband's service would be best accomplished by such a plaque.

During the 18 years of service the "team" was credited with more than 100 apprehensions, most of them involving burglary attempts. In his final year of service Johnston cornered a burglar in a local tavern. When the burglar charged him, Johnston fired a shot but the burglar fled, leaving a trail of coins down the street. Later, the suspect was apprehended by the Chula Vista police but he denied guilt. Later, when he faced Johnston for identification, he blew it. "That bullet nearly hit me in the head, you blank of a blank," he said. That was all the confession the police needed.

In 1971 the community arranged a retirement luncheon for Johnston. A quiet, soft-spoken man, Johnston tried to wave off the honors the community and his fellow officers had planned for him. The affair was never held. His condition worsened and it became apparent he would not be able to attend the August 27, 1971 function and it was cancelled.

Many men who are now ranking officers in the sheriff's department worked with Johnston and respected him for his professional ability.

One such officer is the sheriff himself, John Duffy. He worked with Johnston out of the Lemon Grove office.

"Hal Johnston demonstrated qualities that are woven into the fabric of the Sheriff's Department's character today," Sheriff Duffy said. "His professional ability commanded respect. His retirement was a loss to his community. His death saddens those of us who worked with him."

CPO's Power to Tax Censured by Conde

Lou Conde, Chairman of the San Diego County Board of Supervisors, lauded the decision of the County's state legislators to require direct control or authority over any other governmental entity."

Conde said he was reiterating the official position of the County Board of Supervisors which was adopted on January 9 of this year. The Board's decision reflected the official position of the San Diego County Board of Supervisors which was adopted earlier this year.

"Battle lines have at last been drawn and there are two main issues involved: Should a transit district's main reason for existence be to provide transportation or to determine land use? It's obvious the County's legislators in Sacramento see the goal as transportation while Pete Wilson, Dick Brown and Dick Rypinski see the goal as land use control," Conde said.

"Also, should the proposed transit district's directors, with the power to tax, be elected by the people or appointed by local jurisdictions? The County's legislative delegation apparently believes in taxation with representation while Messrs. Wilson, Brown and Rypinski do not.

"The question of a regional transit district will be a critical one for the taxpayers of the County of San Diego," Conde said.

Budget Control Denied Conde supported the delegation's decision to restrict the Comprehensive Planning Organization to only the planning phases of the new transit district, "CPO is an organization of appointed officials whose only charge in transportation is planning. CPO was not set up to have budget control or authority over any other governmental entity."
